PRE SEA SECTION

MY EXPERIENCE IN T S RAHAMAN

On 1st January 2018, I remember standing at the main entrance (the Fire Gate as it is popularly known) of T S Rahaman, accompanied by my parents, to begin the General Purpose Ratings training. Many aspirants were assembled too. Being a residential course, we were ready to leave the sweet comfort of our homes and family.

On entry to the campus, we were instructed to assemble in our respective classrooms as per the list. New faces around brought a feeling of nervousness and anxiety as we didn't know what to expect in the next six months. Then we were allotted our shared accommodation along with two other students. The first night was an uncomfortable experience especially for those who hadn't been in a hostel before. But our discomfort was first overcome by our faculty who boosted our confidence. They taught us how to depend on and comfort each other. In a while we became good companions.

The training period changed my life completely. I learnt to be independent and take care of myself. It taught me to be tough and never give up no matter how difficult the situation is. Being calm and patient was the key to survive in every situation and find a way out. Although the course is hectic, we have fun too, interacting with people from different places and different walks of life.

In the last six months, I learnt to adjust with everyone and accept people for who they are. Now the time is near for us to depart from this beautiful place we call home. Once our training ends, we will be heading out in different directions. At times I think; I'm really going to miss the every morning muster and parade, having our meals together, the love from our faculty members and the friends we made along the way.

Despite all this, we cannot forget the concept of the training, to make us good seafarers to serve the maritime industry. Life in T S Rahaman has turned us into independent individuals, instilled with discipline and sincerity towards our work. I am grateful to the staff for their continuous support and guidance during the training, not only concerning the knowledge imparted but also developing values in us for a prosperous future.

I would advice any student aspiring to join the merchant navy, to choose T S Rahaman, the best maritime training institute, for all round training and experience.

RATING KASHISH JOLLY- BATCH 61

AN UNFORGETTABLE EXPERIENCE

I came to Training Ship Rahaman as a quiet, shy and introvert student. But now I can see a tremendous change in me as I pass out from this institute. T S Rahaman has turned me into a mature person who can face the world with confidence.

Looking back to the beginning of my training, I recall all the hardships I faced and was even on the verge of quitting. The continuous encouragement from my family, friends and staff here convinced me to take one day at a time and finally I have been able to endure all the hardships and step out victorious.

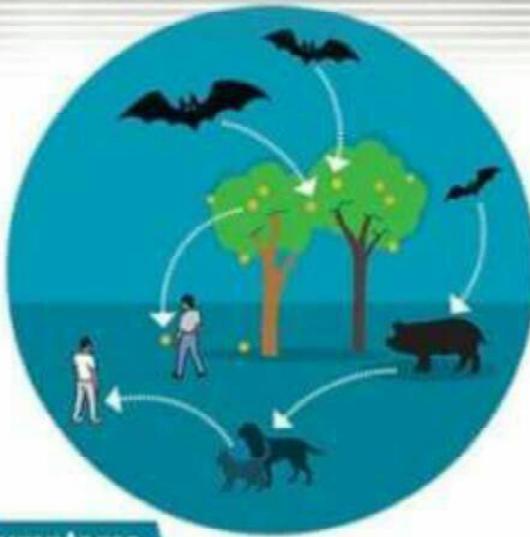

Our day began with morning muster, followed by parade, cleanship, classes, swimming, self study and finally lights out. Meals came as a break which we all looked forward to; a time to interact and share our daily experiences as we dined together. Punishments came frequently as a method to instill discipline in us; a concept which I now understand and treasure its value. The year flew by so quickly but was surely a memorable one and quite an experience. This training has surely instilled the demands of this career and all that is required to be a good, successful officer on board. Unfamiliar nautical subjects like Terrestrial and Celestial Navigation, Rules of the Road and many more were taught to us by well experienced master mariners and practical subjects like Seamanship and safe working practices were imparted by retired Indian navy personnel. But my biggest accomplishment was learning to swim. An incredible achievement indeed! The best part of all, was receiving the award for Best All Round Cadet of batch 17. All my effort and hard work had finally paid off. As the course comes to an end, the memories here will always be cherished. The credit earned and the lessons learnt, both inside and outside the classroom will be everlasting memories.

I know, I still have a long way to go in this career but T S Rahaman has taught me to take the first baby steps. I shall never forget the values instilled in me during the training and the principles to be followed on board especially regarding safety practices.

I conclude by saying that I will surely recommend maritime training at T S Rahaman to anyone who wants to make a successful career in the merchant navy.
